

TRANSLED (Transformation, Language, Education and Development)

KOKUBERWA KATUNZI-MOLLEL \(PhD\)

Kokuberwa is a Tanzanian born Lecturer, researcher and entrepreneur who holds Bachelor Degree in Education, Master of Arts in Information Science and a Phd in Information studies. Over the past decade she had worked for the University of Dar es salaam, holding various leadership positions in the University including; Head of ICT Department in the UDSM-Library, Head of Reference and Documentation Department in the same, Quality Assurance Officer and currently Director for the University's Centre for Continuing Education.

In addition to leadership responsibilities, Kokuberwa has taught Customer Care for information Professionals, Information and Communication Theory for Undergraduate students. Information and Knowledge Management; Human Communication Theory, and Reference and Sources of Information at Post graduate level. Mollel has supervised Masters and Doctoral Students in areas of Records, Information and Knowledge Management, Information and Communication Technologies, Information Seeking Behaviour. She has also facilitated a number of capacity building trainings in areas of records management, gender and development, Information Literacy and research methods for Social Scientist. Her areas of interest are; gender and technology; women/girls empowerment; information-seeking behavior; ICT in teaching and learning and organizational communication.

E-mail:mollel@udsm.ac.tz

PHONE

FAX

WEB

[Street Address], [City], [State] [Postal Code]

[Your Phone]

[Your Fax]

[Web Address]