Erasmus+ Programme

Call for International Mobility for Training and Teaching Stays at the University of Cádiz under the Erasmus KA171 Program: Nominations Open for Staffs from State University of Zanzibar for Academic year 2026/2027.

The State University of Zanzibar (SUZA) is pleased to announce the call for outgoing staffs from the State University of Zanzibar (SUZA) to University of Cadiz, Spain through the Erasmus+KA171 program. This opportunity offers SUZA academic and administrative staff the chance to participate in teaching and training activities at the University of Cádiz during the 2026/2027 academic year.

The list of possible activities in which the staff can take part are published here: Teaching: https://internacional.uca.es/visiting-professors-2026-27/

Training: https://internacional.uca.es/visiting-staff-2026-27/

The beneficiaries of this Mobility program will enjoy financial aid that will allow them to develop collaboration between SUZA and UCA, acquire specific professional skills, and exchange ideas or good practices. They will be able to use the facilities offered by UCA at no additional cost (excluding small fees that also apply to official students and teaching and administrative staff of UCA). All Training activities approved in the Mobility Agreement and satisfactorily completed will be fully recognized by the home university, which assumes this commitment by participating in the program. The Erasmus+ program enables PDI and PTGAS to enhance their intercultural skills and experiences abroad, learn about other higher education systems, and establish contacts with academic and administrative staff from other countries, thereby contributing to the international integration process.

Key dates and mobility conditions

- Mobility period: activities may start from 1 March 2027 and must finish before 31 July 2027.
